HMS Income Fund Adds Direct Investment to Portfolio

Company Makes Co-Investment in M.H. Corbin with Main Street Capital Corporation

HOUSTON, September 14, 2015 – HMS Income Fund (“HMS”), a business development company sponsored by Hines, today announced a direct co-investment to recapitalize M.H. Corbin Inc. ("M.H. Corbin" or the “Company”) in conjunction with its sub-advisor, a wholly owned subsidiary of Main Street Capital Corporation (NYSE: MAIN) (“Main Street”).

The investment represented $5.0 million out of a total $25.0 million in invested capital in the Company. HMS’s investment in M.H. Corbin included a combination of first-lien, senior secured term debt and a direct equity investment. HMS and Main Street partnered with the Company’s founders and other members of management to facilitate the recapitalization.

Founded and headquartered in Plain City, Ohio, M.H. Corbin (www.mhcorbin.com) is a prominent manufacturer and distributor of highway safety and traffic management products. M.H. Corbin’s manufactured products include highway advisory radios, portable traffic analyzers, distance measurement instruments, fiberglass noise barriers and flashing beacons. The Company’s distributed products include intelligent traffic devices, traffic safety equipment, impact attenuation products and road weather information systems.
