MARCH 19, 2020

As concerns about the coronavirus (COVID-19) continue to impact the world economy, I wanted to let you know the measures Hines, the sponsor of Hines Global Income Trust (“Hines Global”), is taking to safeguard your investment throughout this developing situation.

As a global real estate investor and operator, Hines has been managing through the effects of COVID-19 on our offices and investments for over two months starting in China, then in Europe. Our global footprint gives us a unique perspective on how to respond as North America has begun to feel the impact of COVID-19. It’s important to remember, this is an issue affecting people - the people in the communities in which our employees, tenants and investor partners live and work.

BOOTS-ON-THE-GROUND

As always, the safety of our tenants, employees, contractors, and vendors is a top priority. Our vertically integrated organization has enabled our Hines local teams across the globe to efficiently and effectively enact our Pandemic Response Plan. This plan provides a seamless approach to rolling out policies for the safety of our tenants and effective management of our properties during this time. It includes increasing the cleaning and disinfecting of high-traffic touch points, assisting tenants with deep cleaning services, promoting public safety measures and providing real time updates to inform tenants of changing risk levels.

Additionally, we have been leveraging our local teams’ expert knowledge of the assets, the market and current environment to evaluate the asset specific risks during these uncertain times. We believe this in-market resource will allow us to proactively address current risks and react nimbly as the situation evolves.

INVESTOR FOCUS

With over 60 years of real estate experience, Hines has weathered many market swings. While no one could have predicted COVID-19 and its economic impact, our proprietary research provided guidance enabling us to prepare for a U.S. and global market correction, which informed our investment decisions as we have constructed Hines Global’ s portfolio. Accordingly, we have invested in high-quality assets using modest leverage in markets positioned for value retention and resiliency. Our globally diversified fund was 97% leased at the end of 2019 and we believe it is well-situated to weather this challenge. We remain focused on managing our current portfolio and will review any new investment opportunities through the same stringent lens of risk mitigation that is the hallmark of our real estate acumen.

We appreciate your continued confidence in Hines to manage your investment. We value our continued partnership and hope that you and yours stay healthy and safe as this situation continues to evolve.

Jeffrey C. Hines
Chief Executive Officer, Hines Global Income Trust
